CBC Wednesday Night Has Special Easter Week Programs

Programs emphasizing the true meaning of Easter Week will be presented by CBC Wednesday Night, March 29th. Included will be lectures, readings from inspirational material, and musical masterpieces of religious significance

Paul to His Churches

MARCH 29th CBC Wednesday Night presents the first of six investigations of St. Paul and his Epistles, which are recognized as masterpieces of world literature and fountainheads of Christian doctrine.

Paul to His Churches will be a series of talks by the Reverend Dr. Francis Wright Beare, professor of New Testament studies at Trinity College, University of Toronto. Dr. Beare is an internationally-known Biblical scholar whose new commentary of Paul's Epistle to the Philippians has had world-wide acclaim. Some of his references in these talks will be from the new Oxford translation of the Bible.

The St. John Passion

The custom of reciting the passion story during Holy Week can be traced back to the fourth century at least. By the 15th century it was usual for the story to be presented by three clergy plus a tenor narrator, a bass voice representing Christ, and an alto singer playing the crowd. By the 16th century the role of the crowd was being sung by three or more voices.

With the work of Bach in the 18th century the passion reached its artistic peak. By his time, the passion had begun to borrow secular forms, such as the aria and recitative, from the oratorio.

Bach kept this form but heightened its spiritual quality and reinstated the Bible narrative. He wrote four large-scale passions. Most musical scholars agree that the one according to St. Matthew is the greatest work of its kind ever written—technically, emotionally and devotionally.

Ranking just slightly below it as a work of genius is the St. John Passion, which is shorter and more dramatic. It will be presented on CBC Wednesday Night March 29th, in a recording by the Symphony Orchestra and Chorus of North German Radio Hamburg, conducted by Hans Schmidt-Isserstedt, with soprano Elisabeth Gruemmer, contralto Sieglinde Wagner, tenor Ernst Haeflinger, baritone Hermann Prey, and bass Theodore Schlott.

Revelation of a Divine Love

Dame Julian of Norwich was a 14th-century mystic who lived to be 100 and who spent a great part of that time as a recluse in a cell attached to the south side of the chancel of the church of St. Julian in Norwich, England.

There on May 8th, 1373, when she was 30, a strange thing happened to her. She had taken ill of an unknown ailment and on the fourth night church officials so despaired of her life that they had a chaplain administer the last rites of the Church to her. Three days later she was still alive but so weak and confused that she thought sometimes she had died, and so did those who were taking care of her.

Then suddenly the pain left her, she became immobile, and all around her became dark, except for a light "on the image of the Cross." She saw "the red blood trickling down under the Garland . . . as it were in the time of His Passion," and learned "how God is to us everything that is good tenderly wrapping us."

In a series of 15 remarkable revelations she discovered much about the meaning of life and death, of Christ's sacrifice on the Cross.

"And," she said, "I saw full surely that ere God made us He loved us; which love was never slacked, nor ever shall be. And in this love He hath done all His works; and in this love He hath made all things profitable to us; and in this love our life is everlasting. In our making we had beginning; but the love wherein He made us was in Him from without beginning; in which love we have our beginning. And all this shall we see in God, without end."

She described her experience in a mystical treatise called the Revelations of Divine Love. Readings from this inspiring work will be read on CBC Wednesday Night, March 29th, by actress Beth Lockerbie.

Wigmaker Busy for "Great Expectations"

Bob Rybka, an expert wig-maker, attended rehearsals of Great Expectations, with an array of sideburns. As most of the male actors in the cast wear them for this Festival '61 production of the Dickens' classic, they made their personal selections on the basis of color, size and shape. The TV version of Great Expectations will be telecast on Monday, March 27.

Singer Won't Sing In "The Killdeer"

In her first non-singing role on television, contralto Irene Byatt will play a small part in the Festival '61 production of James Reaney's play, The Killdeer, to be seen on CBC-TV next June.

Last seen as Little Buttercup in Tyrone Guthrie's production of H.M.S. Pinafore, telecast on Festival '61 last October, she is identified with a number of Gilbert and Sullivan roles in past CBC-TV productions. This summer she will play a lead role in Guthrie's new production of The Pirates of Penzance at the Stratford Festival.

TV and Radio Scripts

The CBC Script Department reads more than 500 scripts on an average each month.

FRED DAVIS made his start in showbusiness as a trumpeter under such big-name bandleaders as Ellis McLintock and Jack Kane. Now one of the top television emcees on the continent, Fred still finds his musical skill—and his union card—come in handy on occasions.

"Sometimes a producer likes to have the show's emcee 'ham it up' with the musicians, by wielding a drumstick, or some such trick. This would be impossible for anyone not carrying a union card," Fred told us last week when he was in Winnipeg.

"Just recently, though, one such trick caused me some embarrassment on a local show in Toronto. At the end of the program, I was supposed to come on stage with a trumpet and complain, 'I never get to play this thing any more,' proceeding to play a few bars.

"But somehow the show was through early, and although sorely out of practice, I had to blast away for three or four minutes. It was pretty bad!"

But whether his trumpet playing has gone sour or not, the career for which Fred Davis is most famous continues to reach new heights. He is most noted as moderator of Front Page Challenge, a program which has helped to earn him the Liberty Magazine emcee award for the past four years. Audiences also remember him as emcee of Open House for four years until June of last year, and before that, as host of the National Film Board documentary On the Spot, which was renamed Perspective, running from 1953 to 1956.

Fred's career branched south of the border in September, 1958, when he became co-host of the NBC-TV quiz show Brains and Brawn. "The show had a rather short run, however, because of the quiz show scandals at that time. ("Our show was strictly honest," he hurriedly adds.) "But I'm glad it didn't continue, because it appeared that in accepting it, along with Front Page Challenge and Open House, I had bit off more than I could chew."

Fred continues a highly lucrative career in the U.S. as a commercial announcer. After international auditions, he was selected to handle the corporate commercials for the Westinghouse Corporation, last fall. The position took him to the Republican presidential convention in Chicago, and the Democratic convention in Los Angeles, but now he is required to fly to New York only once or twice a month, where the commercials are video-taped.

Recently he was approached to handle commercials for the Dinah Shore Show, but he rejected the offer because it required that he move to Hollywood. "I want to maintain my present career as an emcee—it's more interesting—and continue using the commercials field for gravy. Also, I prefer to live in Canada, and I want my family (wife "Jo" and daughters Nancy, 4 and Terry, 2) to continue to enjoy the Canadian way of life.

On Our Cover

The Times' Easter cover is a colour reproduction of the celebrated painting of the Crucifixion by Quentin Matsys (1466-1530), one of the first master painters of the Antwerp Guild. The background landscape is said to be the work of Matsys' contemporary Joachim de Patinir (1475-1524), possibly the first of the Flemish landscapists. The colour negative of this famous painting was made available to the CBC Times through the courtesy of the National Gallery, Ottawa.

Probing the Earth's Mantle

BY DRILLING a hole approximately six inches in diameter and four miles deep through the earth's crust under the ocean, scientists hope to gain a better understanding of the history of the oceans, climatic changes and the evolution of life.

The actual drilling of this hole, known as Project Mohole, is not expected to begin for several years and will depend upon the outcome of experimental drilling, subsequent engineering and design studies and site surveys. Within the next month or so, however, an experimental deep-sea drilling programme is scheduled to begin to test equipment and techniques for possible use in Project Mohole.

The ultimate goal of the project is to drill through the earth's crust under the ocean to determine the composition and physical properties of the crust and of the underlying rock known as the mantle.

The boundary between the crust and the mantle is known as the Mohorovicic Discontinuity (or, Moho for short), after the Yugoslav seismologist whose studies of earthquake waves first indicated its existence. Hence, the expression Project Mohole.

Scientific guidance will be provided by a committee with the unlikely name of The American Miscellaneous Society (AMSOC). This is a formal committee of the National Academy of Sciences — National Research Council, a private organization. Preliminary studies are being supported in part by funds of the National Science Foundation, a U.S. government agency.

Project Mohole will be the subject of this Sunday's The Nature of Things on CBC-TV. Appearing on the programme will be Dr. Willard Bascom of the Academy-Research Council, director of the project. It will be one of the few times Dr. Bascom has publicly discussed the project.

Dr. J. Tuzo Wilson, head of the department of geophysics at the University of Toronto and former president of the International Union of Geodesy and Geophysics, also will be a guest. Host of the series is Professor Donald Ivey of the University of Toronto.

"The successful accomplishment of this exploration will be a remarkable example of co-operation between engineers and research scientists," said Dr. Detlev W. Bronk, president of the Academy-Research Council, when the experimental programme was confirmed recently.

"Extraordinary engineering difficulties must be overcome; if they are surmounted we shall acquire fundamental information regarding the structure, composition and history of the earth on which we live."

Preliminary drilling will begin shortly off the coast of lower Cali-

LATE NOTES AND CORRECTIONS

WEEK OF MARCH 26 - APRIL 1

Because each issue of the CBC Times must be mailed so far in advance of the program week covered in it, some changes in scheduling and in program content are inevitable. These are noted below:

SUNDAY, MARCH 26

RADIO

Postmark U.K.

This week — "Bagpipes." Bagpipes, apart from porridge and whisky, are practically the trade mark of Scotland but one must not imagine that the pipes were a Scottish invention. The Romans had them in a simpler form and so did the Ancient Greeks but the Scots have developed them and made them what they are today. They say it takes seven generations plus seven years of learning to make a piper, which is the romantic Scottish way of saying that to be any good at piping it has to be in your blood. In this edition John Lindsay introduces you to expert pipers and bagpipe makers.

MONDAY, MARCH 27

TELEVISION

Reflections

The Gordon MacPherson orchestra will play St. Paul's Suite, Third Movement (Holst) and Rain (Eugene Ford). Soprano Jean Marshall will sing Green Up Time and The Man I Love. Violinist Francis Chaplin will play Schubert's Rondo and his own arrangement of Bess, You Is My Woman Now. Harpist Phyllis Ensher will play three short stories in music — Salzedo, Skipping Rope and Behind the Barracks.

Don Messer Jubilee

The orchestra will play Royal Princess Two-Step and The Blue Water Hornpipe. Marg Osborne will sing The Helen Polka and E-A-S-T-E-R. Charlie Chamberlain will sing Easter Parade and Gethsemane. The Buchta Dancers will perform to big John McNeill and Red River Blues. Special guests will be the Westmorland Singers from Moncton, N.B.

The Jack Kane Show

Ivan Romanoff's gypsy medley, announced in the last issue, has been postponed, but guest Julius LaRosa remains on the program. Sylvia Murphy will sing Life Is Just a Bowl of Cherries. LaRosa will sing Any Place I Hang My Hat Is Home. Trombonist Teddy Roderman, one of the Music Makers, will play Stardust. The orchestra plays Kane's arrangement of the theme from Exodus.

TUESDAY, MARCH 28

Rhythm and Romance

Numbers by the orchestra will include My Wonderful One, Poinciana, Grizzly Bear, La Vida and a medley of I Love Louisa, Mary Lou, Sweet Jennie Lee and If You Knew Susie. Reg Gibson will sing Strange Music, Domino and You Go to My Head.

Music in Miniature

Today's program, from Winnipeg, features folk music. Artists are singer Miriam Breitbart, who lived in Israel for a number of years, folksinger Henri Enns and guitarist James Pirie. Miss Breitbart will sing a spiritual, an Irish folk song and three Israeli songs. Mr. Enns will sing a number of Canadian songs and three sea songs. Guitarist Pirie will play Estrellita, and the singers will combine voices in an American folk song, Mo' Mary. Producer is Neil Andrews.

Checkmate

Two attempts are made to murder a wealthy hunter at his jungle retreat in Malaya. He asks Checkmate, Inc., to investigate when he fears a third attempt on his life.

fornia and then work will shift to a test site near Guadalupe Island, off the western coast of Mexico, in 12,000 feet (about 2.3 miles) of water. Previous drilling has been confined to water depths of several hundred feet.

The eventual Mohole may be drilled in water as much as three miles deep into a thickness of about four miles of crustal rock. The deepest hole yet drilled on land, according to the National Science Foundation, is just over 25,000 feet — 4.7 miles — in depth. The reason for drilling the Mohole at sea is because scientific research has shown that the crust is similar to an iceberg—the more there is above the surface, the more there is below. Therefore, where the crust is highest (mountains) it is also thickest and where it is lowest (beneath the deepest seas) it is also thinnest.

"There are similarities between our project and the drilling of an oil well," says Dr. Bascom.

The Mohole will be drilled by the same method used to drill an oil well. A cutting tool is fastened to the bottom of an upright length of iron pipe. The pipe is turned by an engine, causing the tool to cut or drill its way into the earth. As the tool goes down deeper, the driller screws a second length of pipe to the top end of the first, then a third length, and so on.

"Instead, however, of having our rig on solid soil, we'll have it attached to the deck of a sea-going barge, the Cuss I," explains Dr. Bascom.

This will pose technical problems. The drill pipe must dangle the combined length of the water depth and the hole depth. The barge must remain close enough to a point over the hole so that the pipe does not snap. And the whole operation must be able to weather heavy seas.

Dr. Bascom will explain on the television programme how the men involved in Project Mohole hope they have solved these problems. The programme is written by John Irwin and produced by Norm Caton. David Walker is programme organizer.

On Festival '61

HENRY VIII and H-BOMBS

Henry VIII and all his wives appear in an unusual play, "Royal Gambit," Monday, on Festival '61. Albert Dekker plays the bestial king, while other stars are Katherine Blake, Tani Seitz, Kate Reid and Diana Maddox.

HERMANN GRESSIEKER, a contemporary German playwright, has put Henry VIII in a new light.

While most playwrights have dealt with Henry in a strictly historical sense, Gressieker resurrects him in Royal Gambit as a present-day king in a plot fraught with symbolism and philosophical debate. He has propelled Henry and all his wives into an age of hydrogen bombs and electronic computers.

Royal Gambit, a success of the contemporary German theatre and well-received off Broadway in 1959, is being produced for the first time on television. It will be seen this Monday on CBC-TV's Festival '61. Donald Malcolm, writing in The New Yorker while Royal Gambit was playing at the Sullivan Street Playhouse in March, 1959, said:

"Gressieker argues that the political, scientific and military horrors of this century are attributable to the Renaissance, when men threw off the fear of God and sought to command their own destinies.

"To establish the point, he has resurrected Henry VIII and all six of his talkative wives. Sometimes these ladies further the author's argument by addressing the audience directly and sometimes by psychoanalyzing the King to his face.

"Henry, for his part, represents not so much the historical Tudor as the spirit of humanism, which in Herr Gressieker's view is wilful, proud, hypocritical and cruel. Henry's only redeeming feature, if one can call it that, is the great pleasure he takes in having his own way and in celebrating 'the new age'.

"In the first act we find him rejoicing in the Copernican theory of the universe. In the last act, he is expressing his delight at the conquest of disease and the extension of the life span to 59 years. He mentions the Korean War and the increasing prominence of Asia in world affairs. He is conversant with the hydrogen bomb and electronic calculators and he looks forward eagerly to the colonization of the stars."

PROGRAM NOTES

APRIL 2

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

Country Calendar

Dave Innes, farm commentator at Regina, reports on the Regina Horse Show, showing about 10 minutes of film. A news package will be included, and Stan Westaway will talk about roses for the home grounds.

Heritage

A Question of Values. (United Church). This program, last in the series, will deal with another form of the retreat movement—weekend conferences for laymen, organized by the United Church of Canada. Men who attend take their spiritual “temperature” there, and through group discussions, see how faith can be applied in business. The story concerns a high-pressure salesman who thinks he can influence a “big fish” he is trying to land by attending one of these weekend conferences with him. But before the weekend is over, he has had a good look at himself and is shocked with what he sees. Stars are Scott Peters and Sharon Acker.

Twentieth Century

Citizens' Forum

Conservation. Gordon Hawkins presents a discussion on preserving the countryside from depredation, and saving cities from ugliness.

The Nature of Things

The Mohole. Dr. Willard Bascom of the U.S.A.'s National Research Council, is responsible for drilling the deepest hole in the world. He will appear on the program to tell how and why this hole will penetrate through the floor of the Pacific Ocean off the coast of Lower California some 30,000 feet through the crust of the earth. The knowledge thus obtained should help to provide heat for industry; but it will also open a new frontier for geophysicists, the men charged with understanding earth science. Also on the program will be Dr. J. Tuzo Wilson of the University of Toronto, former president of the International Union of Geodesy and Geophysics.

Walt Disney Presents

“Auld Acquaintance,” with Zorro. Zorro must appear in two places at one time to try to prevent an army payroll robbery and maintain the secret of his identity.

National Velvet

Velvet interprets a sudden outburst of affection from Edwina and her friends as complete acceptance into the older group, but later feels betrayed when her older sister snubs her.

The World of Music

Today, Wally Koster will present music in tune with spring. Singer Wendy Martin, a Canadian now living in the U.S., and actor-singer-comic Jack Creley will be guests. Bert Niosi will conduct the orchestra.

Koster opens the slow singing Rodgers and Hammerstein's “Sunday,” from Flower Drum Song. A fashion show of new spring clothes for children then will lead into a dance number by the Andy Body dancers. Wendy Martin will sing Younger Than Springtime, and Jack Creley will advise the children, musically, to Put on a Happy Face. In an Alice in Wonderland setting, Wendy Martin will serenade some story book characters to the tune of Getting to Know You. Jack Creley will do T'Was Brillig, and the show will close with a number on a religious theme.

Ed Sullivan Show

General Motors Presents

A Winter Meeting, television drama by George Salverson, produced by Basil Coleman and starring Gerry Rowan and Winnifred Dennis.

At a winter resort in the Laurentians, a crusty old man comes face to face with his past. The gay-hearted Auntie Bea and her granddaughter Lesley unwittingly cause him to make a grim decision.

Cast: Rowan as Roger Anderson; Dennis as Auntie Bea; Sharon Acker as Lesley; William Bell as Harry; Nelson Phillips as Barton; Sandra Scott as Molly; Alexander Webster as McCannon; Garrick Hagon as Wilson.

Background

A look at the British penal code, and particularly the murders for which Timothy Evans and John Christie were hanged, in 1950 and 1953. (A book recently published in England, Ten Rillington Place by Ludovic Kennedy, has created a stir in England with the close investigation of these murder trials and of the lives of Evans and Christie. Kennedy, a British Liberal MP, television personality and husband of ballet dancer Moira Shearer, will be on the program with John Freeman.)

Fighting Words

This programme, originally scheduled for last Sunday, will be seen today, because of the Stanley Cup hockey playoffs.

Nathan Cohen's guests are Verdun Mitchell, Halifax chief of police; James P. Mackey, Toronto police chief; Arthur Maloney, lawyer and Conservative member of parliament for Toronto Parkdale, and Frank Tumpane, Toronto Telegram columnist.

CBWT—The Rebel

Johnny Yuma tangles with a man determined to mine gold in Indian territory despite the law.

CBC Symphony

The CBC Symphony Orchestra, formed in 1952, is the only full-scale symphony orchestra in North America maintained on a regular basis by a broadcasting organization.

SHARON ACKER

Busy actress Sharon Acker will be seen three times in two days by CBC television viewers. On Sunday, she appears on Heritage and G.M. Presents, and Monday she plays a role in Royal Gambit.

PROGRAM NOTES

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

Nursery School Time

Hoppy has decided to proclaim this National Rabbit Week, in honour of rabbits everywhere. Hoppy shows Miss Teddy how to make a bunny badge, and then reads a story, Where's the Bunny?

Open House

Sewing Made Simple. Last week Ann Bobyk showed us how to select a pattern and the fabric for a simple dress. Today, in her second lesson, she gives instructions for preparing the material for cutting, and then demonstrates the best methods of cutting.

Museum Journeys. The Far Eastern collection of the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto is an extensive one, with a Chinese collection that is famous the world over. For the next six weeks, Open House will feature this collection as a background to a series of programs on women of the Orient, past and present.

In the first program today, through paintings, costumes, and other artifacts it will be shown how the life of the Chinese woman has changed over the centuries. Commentator is Barbara Stephen, assistant curator of this department of the museum.

CBWT—Three's Company

Anne Dyer pays a return visit today to demonstrate some of the techniques she uses and some of the fun she has in working with children in the field of creative dramatics. Mrs. Dyer is assisted by young friends home from school for the holidays.

Mrs. Bruce Mumford continues her Tips for Homemakers series.

Junior Roundup

The Friendly Giant. It's a rainy day at the farm and at the castle. Friendly, Rusty and Jerome talk about the things one can do inside on a rainy day.

Host, Murray Westgate. This is games and contests day, with a studio audience of boys and girls. Dave Broadfoot and Jean Templeton conduct the proceedings. A set of junior encyclopedia is the prize on Telequiz, and the home winners of the latest Whatsit contest will be announced. Magician Michael Roth entertains with puzzles and "mathemagic." George Feyer creates his special picture of the week, with help from boys and girls in the studio.

The Danny Thomas Show

Danny Williams suddenly feels like Old Father Time, when the Club Copa hires a rock n' roll singer.

Jack Kane Show

Trumpeter Maynard Ferguson will be today's special guest.

The Flintstones

Fred Flinstone co-stars in a before-and-after TV weight reducing commercial, with a legal battle resulting.

Festival '61

Royal Gambit, a tragi-comedy adapted from the stage play by German playwright Hermann Gressieker, and produced by Robert Allen. Stars are Albert Dekker, with Katherine Blake, Tani Seitz, Kate Reid and Diana Maddox.

The story of Henry VIII and his six wives is treated as a poetic fantasy in which Henry emerges as the first Modern Man, shaping his own destiny in the face of Providence. In this powerful drama, the wives are presented as symbols of the values of the age.

Cast: Dekker as Henry VIII; Blake as Katherine of Aragon; Seitz as Anne Boleyn; Reid as Anne of Cleves; Maddox as Kate Parr; Louise Nicol as Jane Seymour and Victoria Mitchell as Kathryn Howard.

CBWT—Gunsmoke

Matt Dillon, unable to prove what he knows, is forced to try a deadly bluff.

Noted trumpeter Maynard Ferguson is special guest this week on the Jack Kane Show, lending his artistry to that of the big band and vocalist Sylvia Murphy to create a half-hour of top entertainment.

PROGRAM NOTES

APRIL 4

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

Nursery School Time

Miss Madeleine and Dick observe National Rabbit Week, but Dick isn't sure he likes it, because he is a beaver. Miss Madeleine makes him some rabbit ears out of a paper bag, so he can pretend to be a rabbit, and then surprises him with a real bunny as a pet.

Music Break

Special guest today is lovely Florence Faiers, who will sing Cole Porter's I Love You and the bubbling I Can't Help Singing.

George LaFleche has a novelty one-chorus medley of Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf, Sur le Pont, Parade of the Wooden Soldiers, Skip to My Lou, and Ten Little Indians. He will also vocalize for And the Angels Sing.

Together, Georges and Florence will sing the reverent Panis Angelicus. Bob McMullin's Orchestra will play Unforgettable and You Turned the Tables on Me.

Emcee is Warren Davis.

Three's Company

Mary Liz Bayer, Bill Guest and Jose Poneira welcome their favorite cook, Mrs. A. R. Gauer, on her regular Tuesday visit to the program. A special feature is planned for young people interested in dancing.

Junior Roundup

Maggie Muggins. Reuben Rabbit accidentally spills on his tail a can of Fluffer-Up, sold to him to give him the "fluffiest tail in the world." The tail grows and grows, and Mr. McGarrity has to come to the rescue.

Host, Murray Westgate. From Montreal, This Living World, with Steve Bloomer. Steve and Kokomo visit Japan and look at some of the country's strange animals—the moon bear, and species of badger, pheasant, hawk and peacock.

From Toronto, photographer Paul Rockett talks about photography, places he has been, and his life as a photographer.

Cartoon Party

(Formerly a Saturday feature, Cartoon Party now will be seen in this spot each Tuesday.)

On Junior Magazine

"Great Flood" Comes to TV

"Noah's Flood," a miracle play set to music by Benjamin Britten, is to be seen Saturday, April 8, on "Junior Magazine"

BENJAMIN BRITTEN
Noah's Flood, a miracle play set to music by British composer Benjamin Britten, will be featured Saturday on Junior Magazine.

NOAH'S FLOOD, Benjamin Britten's musical setting of a 14th century miracle play that tells the story of Noah's Ark, will be presented Saturday, April 8, on CBC-TV's Junior Magazine.

The program was prepared in Vancouver as part of the 1960 Vancouver Festival of the Arts. It was filmed for television in Christ Church Cathedral and features William Reimer and Milla Andrew in the roles of Noah and his wife and 70 children and teenagers.

Britten's work (which he called Noye's Fludde—the medieval English spelling) had its first performance at Orford Church, Suffolk, England, on June 18, 1958. After that performance, The Observer of Manchester said:

"Noye's Fludde . . . tells the story of Noah's Ark with the naive and literal faith of medieval folk art. Clearly any musical setting that made use of the sophisticated

(Please turn to page 15)

Leon the Lion presents a half hour of cartoons, featuring Bozo the Clown, Crusader Rabbit, Foo Foo and other cartoon characters.

CBWT—How About That

Films will be shown of the Golden Jubilee celebrations on the Isle of Man, popular British resort centre. A second item is "Introduction to Jazz."

CBWT—High Jinks

A talent program for students in grades 10, 11 and 12.

The Chevy Show

Roy Rogers and Dale Evans are featured in today's show.

Front Page Challenge

Red Skelton Show

Clem becomes jealous when Daisy June tries her talent as an actress.

Q for Quest

The Great Scholar Wu, a drama by Berthold Brecht, translated by Rose Kasner.

FLORENCE FAIERS

Viewers are always pleased when petite Florence Faiers pays a visit to Music Break to assist Georges LaFleche in the vocals.

PROGRAM NOTES

APRIL 5

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

Chez Helene

French for pre-schoolers, with Hélène Baillargeon and her assistants—Susie the mouse (Corinne Orr), Peter (Anthony Tremblay), and Marion. From Montreal.

Nursery School Time

Miss Teddy and Hoppy have made a rabbit clock, with rabbit's ears instead of hands. Miss Teddy tells the story of a little rabbit named Telltime.

Open House

Madame Benoit's Cooking School. Chafing-dish cooking is the subject of Madame Benoit's tenth cooking lesson. She talks of the four types of heating apparatus commonly used in chafing-dish cooking and demonstrates their use with another of her delicious recipes.

Interview. To be announced.

On the Map. Comments on a current item in the news by Paul Fox, professor of political economy at the University of Toronto.

CBWT—Three's Company

Another visit is paid the University of Manitoba's department of home economics. Germain Warkentin surveys the entertainment world, and Mary Liz and Bill welcome K. L. Fawdry, head of the BBC's school telecasts, in Canada as guest of the Manitoba Education Association.

The Verdict Is Yours

Fascinating courtroom dramas, authentically staged with judge and counsel portrayed by professional lawyers. A jury selected from the audience gives its verdict at the completion of each case. Newsmen Bill Stout supplies background and side-lights on each case.

Junior Roundup

The Friendly Giant. Some things are big, and some things are small, depending on how you look at them. To an inch worm, everything looks big. Friendly reads a story, Inch by Inch, about an inch worm's travels.

Host, Murray Westgate. From Winnipeg, The Outrider, with cowboy singer Stu Phillips. Stu sings such songs as She'll Be Comin' 'Round the Mountain, and tells the story of how a small boy with get-rich-quick ideas finds that a trapper's life is not all mink and money.

From Halifax, folk songs and stories. (The Indian Legends series has come to an end.) From Toronto, Harry Freedman and friends make more music with interesting instruments.

Countrytime

Significant developments, practical information and opinions relating to farming on the prairies. Rebroadcast Saturday for viewers in Alberta and Saskatchewan. Producer is Gren Bates of CBC Winnipeg.

A new method of handling apples in bulk bins is shown, with the cameras following the fruit from the orchards to the packing plant and the flotation process at the Laurel Co-Op in Kelowna.

Angel

The confused and chaotic world of the tempestuous French bride of a U.S. architect. Marshall Thompson and Annie Farge star.

When Angel cannot go to Paris with her husband, a friend persuades her women's club to go to Paris.

My Three Sons

Fred McMurray and William Frawley star in this heartwarming and humorous series about a widower who must solve the problems connected with raising three sons.

The entire neighborhood gets into the act when Robbie and Mike take on a picket fence painting job.

Winston Churchill—The Valiant Years

The Die is Cast. Newsreels show the build-up to the invasion of Normandy. King George VI once again interferes to prevent Churchill from taking part personally. Rome is liberated. (This program was originally scheduled for March 29th, but was pre-empted by a Stanley Cup play-offs telecast.)

Explorations

The Transparent Walls. Third in the series on Canadian crime and punishment. This program shows the ways in which men convicted of crimes find their way back into society, what methods there are and will be for handling their rehabilitation, and what problems a former convict finds and must solve before he can truly be said to have reformed. Knowlton Nash and Alan Millar will discuss prisoner rehabilitation with T. George Street, chairman of the new National Parole Board in Ottawa. Also on the program will be Prof. T.

ALAN MILLAR

With Knowlton Nash, Alan Millar will host today's presentation on Explorations, "The Transparent Walls." The program examines the problems faced by a man just released from prison.

Grygier, visiting lecturer in corrections at the School of Social Service, University of Toronto; A. M. Kirkpatrick, executive director of the John Howard Society; and Dan Coughlan, director of probation services.

CBWT—Director's Choice

The Glorious Gift of Molly Malloy, starring Greer Garson. A first-grade teacher delights her children with fairy stories, but runs into trouble from the principal.

CBWT—Curling

Bill Walsh of the Fort Rouge club challenges Jimmie Welsh of Deer Lodge in another of the special series. How They Started

William Frawley who rose to TV fame as Fred in the "I Love Lucy" series, has found another winner as Bub on the new "My Three Sons" series, Wednesdays. Bill tried railroading early in life, had better luck at acting, and has played innumerable roles on Broadway and Hollywood since 1923.

Stanley Livingston, the nine-year-old who plays Chip in "My Three Sons," literally dove into show business when he plunged into a swimming pool and came up at the feet of a talent scout who hired him on the spot for a job on the "Ozzie and Harriet" show.

PROGRAM NOTES

APRIL 6

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

Nursery School Time

Miss Madeleine and Dick sing songs and play games. Then Miss Madeleine tells a story about a little rabbit, and shows how to make a bunny out of paper and pin a tail on it.

Three's Company

Charlotte Lindgren demonstrates the art of enamelling on copper, which she claims is an easy craft to learn. Jose Poneira provides songs and piano stylings for a pleasant, relaxing half-hour designed to refresh the hard-working homemaker.

Junior Roundup

Sing Ring Around. Donna Miller and her little puppet Cheeky play music for very young lovers. Donna has other dolls, and they help her act out the musical stories. Music included will be Skip to My Lou, Mary Had a Little Lamb, and Peter and the Wolf.

Host, Murray Westgate. Murray will welcome Carolyn Blythe, 14-year-old ventriloquist from Verdun, Que., and her puppet, Annabelle. Hugh Halliday, animal photographer and writer, visits to tell of being dropped by plane 20 miles from civilization, having to find his way back on foot.

Toby Tarnow and Alan Millar conduct a debate with four public school children on the subject, "Girls are better than boys."

The story of one of Canada's famous ships, The Nancy, is told. She was a British warship that travelled the Great Lakes during the American Revolution.

Roy Rogers Show

Roy tries to solve the mystery of the disappearance of silver from the Acuna Indians' mines. Murder is added to the mystery when the tribe's chief is killed.

Stop, Look and Listen

This month Geoff Spurrill will present a number of hobbies dealing with electricity. On the first of the series he will show how to make a simple telegraph set.

A new segment begins today, designed to show boys and girls that gardening can be fun. Host is Hector

CHARLES LAUGHTON
Distinguished guest Thursday on the Tennessee Ernie Ford Show will be actor Charles Laughton.

Macdonald, Assiniboine Park Supervisor. His English garden in the large Winnipeg park has been admired by all who have seen it.

Do you want to look eighty? Or change yourself into a Chinese mandarin? On "Curtain Up," John Hirsch will have as his guest Nadine Kelly, who will demonstrate how she makes up actors.

Produced at CBC Winnipeg by Don Browne-Wilkinson.

CBWT—Father Knows Best

Kathy receives a magic set and feels endowed with supernatural powers. She tries to cast a spell on her brother and commands her kitten to change into a bird.

Live a Borrowed Life

With Bill Walker, Elwy Yost and guest panelists. Charles Templeton is moderator.

Tennessee Ernie Ford Show

Actor Charles Laughton is Ernie's guest on this week's show.

CBWT—Sergeant Bilko

Starring Phil Silvers. Another episode in the humorous series depicting the antics of a U.S. Army sergeant and his platoon.

CBWT—Wanted—Dead or Alive

Josh Randall almost comes a cropper in hunting down a fugitive charged with murder when the fugitive's father plots an ingenious escape.

GREAT FLOOD ON TV

apparatus and atmosphere of the modern theatre would be quite inappropriate. By turning it into a musical pageant for children, supported by a bass (Noah), a contralto (Mrs. Noah) and a handful of professional instrumentalists to lead an amateur orchestra, Britten has not merely produced a good school opera; he has alighted on what is clearly the ideal musical expression of the essentially child-like (though not, of course, in any way childish) spirit of the drama.

"Indeed, its very effectiveness as an opera for children to perform lies precisely in the fact that this is not 'an opera for children,' but a wholly appropriate and deeply moving setting of the Biblical tale . . .

"In an age when music seems to grow steadily more elaborate, complex and forbidding, Britten preserves an ability to conjure up ideas so utterly simple that one wonders how it can be that no one has alighted on them before, but that are none the less quite without triteness or banality."

The work tells the story of Noah embarking in the Ark and surviving the flood. The Chester Miracle plays were written by ordinary people for performance by the craftsmen and tradesmen and their families; properties and scenic devices, though carefully worked out, had to be extremely simple, and the presentation, on a cart which moved round the town and neighbouring villages, was unsophisticated, with an audience rapport much greater than can exist in regular theatre.

Britten has kept this simplicity and rapport by a number of techniques. For instance, he makes extensive use of child performers. The soloists, in the roles of Noah's sons, Shem, Ham and Japheth and their wives, are all children. The entire chorus of the animals is also made up of children and the orchestra itself needs only 10 professional players to lead the large body of child instrumentalists.

PROGRAM NOTES

APRIL 7

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

Chez Helene

French for pre-schoolers, with Hélène Baillargeon and her assistants—Susie the mouse (Corinne Orr), Peter (Anthony Tremblay), and Marion. From Montreal.

Nursery School Time

Miss Teddy and Hoppy, thinking about spring, watch the seeds which they planted begin to grow. Miss Teddy shows how to plant seeds in a paper cup. Some children bring a baby lamb to visit, and they feed him milk and sing songs: Baa Baa Black Sheep, and Mary Had a Little Lamb.

Open House

A Visit to Vancouver. A special edition of Open House comes from Vancouver.

CBWT—Three's Company

Today Gerdine Crawford tackles the April shower appearance problem by showing how to make a rain hat that is both attractive and effective. Alice Poyser shares her favorite spring reading list with viewers, and Margaret Hood discusses with Mary Liz how women's groups and organizations might plan their publicity programs to be more effective and satisfactory to themselves and their friends in the press, radio and television field.

Junior Roundup

The Friendly Giant. Only dogs can hear the whistle that Rusty blows from the castle yard. Friendly reads the story, Old Mother Hubbard.

Host, Murray Westgate. From Vancouver, a new series of documentary films called Eyes West, which will spotlight British Columbia's past and present. The opening episode today will introduce the series and discuss the geography of B.C. (The series, Tidewater Tramp, has come to an end.)

Your World This Week will carry a news roundup for young Canadians, with Frank Stalley. Murray and Frank will read and answer letters from the mailbox.

On Safari

Feathers and Fortunes. Another adventure through the cameras of Armand and Michaela Denis. Today, a look at one of Nature's strangest birds, the ostrich.

Films of the Oxford-Cambridge boat race, one of the world's most famous rowing races and an annual event in England, will be shown Saturday, April 8, on CBC Television. An actuality broadcast from the scene will be carried Saturday, April 1, by CBC Radio.

GREAT FLOOD ON TV

The score is sufficiently easy for children to follow and there are some more or less unorthodox instruments in addition to the strings: recorders, hand-bells, bugles and, among the percussion instruments, six teacups, or "slung mugs,"

Perry Mason

The Case of the Cowardly Lion. A zoo curator asks Perry to find a missing gorilla. The zoo's dentist is found murdered in a lion's cage, and witnesses tell Perry they saw the curator leaving the scene of the murder.

Danger Man

John Drake is called to an atomic energy plant in North Africa to investigate tales of leakage of radioactivity from the reactor, and uncovers a fiendish plot by a powerful shiek.

Have Gun, Will Travel

A town hires Paladin to subdue a riotous old behemoth of a man during his semi-annual weekend blowout.

CBWT—Men Into Space

On a mission to an asteroid, Colonel McCauley finds evidence that leads him to believe there has been animal life there. He has a difficult time convincing others of this, however.

CBWT—Peter Gunn

Today, Gunn uncovers a clever blackmail scheme in Chinatown.

which when hit with a wooden spoon represent the first tinkling drops of rain.

CBC-TV attended the final performance of the play at Vancouver and utilized three cameras for filming. The cameras were placed in fixed positions so as not to interfere with the audience's enjoyment.

The simplicity of props has been retained by Britten and at Vancouver the props consisted of platforms at various levels, representing a variety of settings—the village the seashore on which is built the ship, the mountaintop and even the flood-waters.

Charles Stegeman was responsible for the stage design at Vancouver and also for the animal heads worn by the children to represent the pairs of animals, birds and reptiles.

The opera is designed for performance in a church, where the congregation can join in the singing of three well-known hymns—Lord Jesus, Think On Me; Eternal Father, Strong to Save and the Thomas Tallis Canon.

The Vancouver production was co-directed by two of the city's leading drama experts, Joy Coghill and Myra Benson. John Avison conducted the orchestra. Michael Rothery was the CBC-TV producer.

Junior Magazine

From Vancouver, a presentation of Noah's Flood, a modern musical play scored by Benjamin Britten. Involving young and adult singers, the play has an exciting orchestral score, using some unusual musical instruments.

It is a modern miracle play based on the Biblical story of Noah and his family in the Ark. This performance, originally prepared for the 1960 Vancouver Festival of the Arts, was recorded for TV and staged in a church

Feature Top International Singers

Baritone Heinz Rehfuss, from Switzerland, and soprano Joan Sutherland, from Australia, provide an international sampling of talent for CBC Radio listeners this week

THIS WEEK CBC radio presents recitals by two operatic and concert singers of international fame: Swiss-born baritone Heinz Rehfuss and Australian soprano Joan Sutherland.

Rehfuss has an operatic repertoire of 90 roles, of which Mozart's are his favourite. But he is a well-known champion of contemporary works, too, and frequently sings in untried operas.

"I suppose I am a curious person," he says, "because I am not satisfied to stay with the standard operatic repertoire. The classic works are wonderful, but I think an artist must also go with his time."

Of course this is a bit of a gamble, he feels, because "you never know whether a new opera is going to be a lasting contribution to the operatic repertoire, or whether it will be a fiasco. But I have taken chances before and I feel obliged to try new things all the time"—such as Alban Berg's Lulu and Bartok's Bluebeard's Castle.

He enjoys breaking new ground in recitals, too—has given first performances of songs by Stravinsky, Berg, Arthur Honegger, Frank Martin, Liebermann and others. Tuesday night on CBC radio he will be heard in a recital featuring works by two of these contemporary composers: Six Monologues from Martin Hofmannsthal's Everyman, and Petit Cours de Morale by Honegger. He will be accompanied by Mario Bernardi. The program was recorded last fall when Rehfuss came to Canada to sing the leading role of the Count in the Canadian Opera Company's performance of Mozart's The Marriage of Figaro.

He first made his reputation as principal baritone with the Zurich Opera, where he still sings frequently, as well as in most of the major opera houses and festivals of Europe. He is also versatile in recital work and oratorios, and is famous for his interpretation of German lieder. He has toured all European countries, Israel, North Africa, and North America, and is a well-known recording artist under six labels. Each year he holds a series of master classes at Darmstadt, Germany.

Joan Sutherland is busy reviving difficult old works that have been gathering dust for years because there was no one with the special combination of voice and personality necessary to do them justice. She not only sings them in the grand manner, she adds vocal acrobatics that have not been heard for decades.

"I want to sing those mouldy old chestnuts," she told an interviewer recently. "I love all those demented old dames of the old operas. All

YOUR FAVOURITE PROGRAMS MIGHT BE AT A NEW TIME!

April 1 marked the beginning of the spring broadcasting season, and several new programs have been added to radio schedules. Many other programs have been moved to new times in the schedule, so listeners are cautioned to read the listings in this issue very carefully.

Every effort has been made to ensure accuracy, but last-minute changes could cause some alterations to these listings.

Hockey broadcasts, yet to be scheduled, will once again cause many of the radio and television listings in this issue to be changed at the last minute.

right, so they're loony. The music's wonderful and I want to go on singing them." She does so in a big, full-throated style not usually attempted by coloraturas.

Miss Sutherland made her debut at 21 in her native Sydney in a concert performance of the difficult Dido and Aeneas. She continued to sing in concerts and oratorios, and within the next three years won two substantial prizes which helped finance a trip to Britain in 1951. Covent Garden signed her up and soon she made headlines with operatic performances there and at Glyndebourne. In London she met a childhood friend, Australian pianist Richard Bonyng, and they were married in 1954. He has become her manager and accompanist, and appears with her in the Celebrity Concert on CBC Wednesday Night. She will sing arias from Atalanta, Rodelinda, Alcina, La Molinara, Lucia di Lammermoor and Rosina, the famous mad scene from Thomas' Hamlet, and groups of old familiar songs.

Two years ago Miss Sutherland suddenly attained the rare stature of diva with startling success in Lucia di Lammermoor at the Paris Opera. Now opera houses all over the world are competing for her time, as well as concert halls and radio.

She is constantly on the go but for a month each year she insists on resting her voice by not singing a note. This is not her first visit to Canada. She made her North American debut three years ago at the Vancouver Festival, as Donna Anna in Don Giovanni.

School Broadcasts

School broadcasts have been defined as programs specially planned by experts to suit the needs of the teacher, and presented at times when students can take advantage of them in their classrooms. The Departments of Education, who plan the broadcasts, also bear part of their cost. The CBC is responsible for taking the plans decided upon by educational authorities and presenting them in an appropriate radio or TV form. CBC works in daily close contact with departmental officials and teachers.

William Blake

Poet, Artist, and Hothead

The strange but talented poet-artist William Blake is the subject of a CBC Radio presentation on Wednesday Night, April 5

WILLIAM BLAKE was an unusual combination—a hot-headed mystic who could be producing art or poetry of translucent beauty one minute, or flailing someone with his tongue or his fists the next.

He was a natural rebel, like many geniuses. But being born out of his time he was considered a crack-pot by some. The fact that he and his wife liked to sunbathe nude in the garden while reading Milton aloud did nothing to dispel this notion. He claimed that the spirit of Milton had entered his body and was helping to inspire him.

When Blake was a small child he said that he frequently saw angels as he tramped over the fields around London, and that they often sat on the head of his bed. At four he insisted that he saw God put His head in the window, that Ezekiel often paid him visits. In adulthood, when some friends and associates had treated him badly, he took himself off into the happier world of his imagination, and found comfort among the angels.

Although Blake spent a good part of his life with strained finances, he began it comfortably enough in London's Soho in 1757, the son of a prosperous hosier. Educated at home, he grew up in a personal isolation that encouraged his liking for fantasy. By the time he was 10 his artistic talent was so obvious that his father enrolled him in Pars' drawing academy in the Strand, the best art school of his day, bought a variety of casts for him to work with, and gave him a handsome allowance which enabled the boy to become a collector of prints in a small way.

When he was 14 his father paid the then whopping price of 50 guineas to apprentice him to the engraver Basire for seven years. During the summers he concentrated on drawing gothic sculpture

Negro Worship in London. Dr. Rosey Pool has taken her tape recorder to churches of different denominations in London where the congregations are mainly Negro. Dr. Pool, who is Dutch by birth, is now on the staff of London University where she specializes in American literature. Many listeners will remember her broadcast on American negro poets. She returned to London last summer after spending a year in the United States on a Fulbright scholarship. During this time, Dr. Pool visited both the northern and southern United States and lectured at Negro colleges in the south. (Repeated from Trans-Canada Matinee March 30, 1961).

Passion Play in the Black Hills. During their holiday last summer, Jean Sangwine with her husband and three children went to Spearfish, South Dakota, to see the Black Hills Passion Play which she calls the Oberammergau of America. The Play is staged in an open-air amphitheatre three nights a week and is seen by some ninety thousand tourists each season, including several thousand Canadians. The Passion Play has been staged in the Black Hills for the past 22 years and Mrs. Sangwine herself took part in it one evening. She compares it to a religious canvas by one of the great masters. (Repeated from Trans-Canada Matinee March 27, 1961).

Health Services in India and Ceylon. In her second interview with Dr. John Hastings, Betty Tomlinson asks him about the problems faced by public health workers in India and Ceylon. Another question discussed is the effectiveness of the training given overseas students in Canada, in meeting the needs of their own countries when they return. Dr. Hastings is Associate Professor of Public Health and Preventive Medicine, School of Hygiene, University of Toronto. He returned to Canada recently after spending five months on a travelling Fellowship visiting Britain, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, the Soviet Union, India, Ceylon and Japan. On Matinee Highlights last week, Betty Tomlinson, hostess of Trans-Canada Matinee, asked Dr. Hastings about health services in Russia. (Repeated from Trans-Canada Matinee March 6, 1961).

Already known to listeners for their parts in "The Jacksons and Their Neighbours," Jean Murray, above, and Cec Montgomery, below, have roles in another serial as well, Kapitan's Fortune, starting today on CBC Radio.

Poet, Artist and Hothead

in the lonely dimness of old London churches, Westminster Abbey in particular.

To round off his education at 21 he studied briefly at the new Royal Academy School, but he was too individual an artist and a person to see eye to eye with orthodox artists. He left the Academy so fed up that he stopped drawing from living models, relied entirely on his imagination, and his work got more and more abstract.

He set himself up in a small way as an engraver for book sellers and was soon doing a steady trade. A short time later, at 22, he fell in love, but she laughed when he proposed, and that was that. Later when dining with friends he told his sad tale of unrequited love and one of them, Catherine Boucher, a Battersea gardener's daughter, said that she felt sorry for him. "Do you indeed? Then I love you for it," he told her. They were married soon afterwards, and apparently it was a very happy marriage. She was completely illiterate, but he taught her to read and write and even to take off prints and help to colour his engravings.

Ever since boyhood he had written poetry—some of his best-known work dates from his 12th and 14th years—and in 1783 a couple of wealthy patrons helped him publish his first volume, Poetical Sketches.

Some two years later he was able to set up in partnership as a print-seller and engraver. His favourite brother, Robert, went to live with him, but died in 1787. Blake was so broken up by this loss that he closed his shop. He lived in Lambeth for the next 13 years. There he completed his second volume of poems, Songs of Innocence, but could find no publisher. He had a dream in which his dead brother suggested the idea of engraving the poems in relief on copper plate with attractive decorations and then colouring the prints. After that nearly all his work appeared in this style, which resembled medieval illuminated manuscripts.

He had met the famous artist Flaxman, whom he greatly admired, but who treated him with lordly contempt. Flaxman introduced him to a wealthy squire, William Hayley, who rather fancied himself as a connoisseur of poetry and art. Hayley suggested Blake install himself (with his wife) in a cottage on his estate in Sussex. At first Blake delighted in the tranquil freedom of country life. But eventually his role on the estate turned into nothing but a court jester, and although he was polite to Hayley, his temper smouldered, and he gave vent to his feelings in his private journals with satiric verses that put Hayley firmly in his place.

Back in London he had a tough time earning a living. He made some of his most famous plates during these years but after 1785 the Royal Academy accepted his work for exhibit only once, in 1809, and the show was a failure.

When his heart grew weak he took to his bed but continued to draw and write. Because he had lived so long on intimate terms (so he said) with the angels, death did not worry him. He looked on it merely as going from one room into another. He spent his last day singing softly to himself. And the first of England's romanticists died quietly at 69.

The many facets of his unusual personality, his daring, his genius, and the prophetic nature of his philosophy, as revealed in his journals and letters, will be explored on CBC Wednesday Night this week week, in a radio program prepared by Canadian poet James Reaney.

CHCT-TV Calgary Honoured
For "Best Over-All Programming"

The Saturday afternoon young talent show on CHCT-TV, Calgary, "12 and Under," is one of the programs that helped the station to win awards for its local programming.

McFADDEN PUBLICATIONS of New York have announced CHCT-TV, Calgary, winner of the 1960 TV Radio Mirror Gold Medal award for best over-all programming in Canada.
The announcement followed CHCT-TV's submission of 11 local programs covering public service, music, children's, women's interest, news and most original type show.

Singled out in the past for outstanding work within the television field, CHCT-TV in Calgary has now been honored 9 times, this being the third time by the same sponsoring body.
In addition to six other awards since 1955 CHCT-TV, Calgary, received two separate awards from the TV Radio Mirror in 1959-60 for outstanding local programs.

TRANS-CANADA MATINEE

The Story of Three Diseases. Three of the characters in Dr. Jocelyn Patton's story are diabetes, acne and multiple sclerosis and she tells why, if recent reports turn out to be well-founded, the story may have a happy ending. Dr. Patton, lives in Montreal, is retired from practice and spends time now in advisory work.

The Art of Gardening. In the last of her present series entitled "The Art of Gardening," Mary Ferguson interviews A. J. Verschingel, who is in charge of horticultural information at Montreal botanical gardens and who will give expert advice on problems that frequently plague gardeners. Mrs. Ferguson, who lives in Montreal, will be known to many Matinee listeners for her broadcasts about gardening in previous years.

Spousemanship. Joan Seager tells why anyone who was married 30 or more years ago was at a terrible disadvantage by comparison with modern couples—they didn't have the benefit of the high tide of marital advice now dispensed so freely in any magazine. Mrs. Seager is a freelance writer and broadcaster.

Martinique. Mary-Etta Macpherson recently visited the French island of Martinique, the birthplace of the Empress Josephine, and will tell listeners about the island today. Mary-Etta Macpherson has been a popular contributor to Matinee. She has been associated with publishing all her life, first on newspapers and then as

CBW-LATE CONCERT

The fourth program in the series of commissioned works by the Louisville Symphony Orchestra will be made up of:

A. Overture to
"Much Ado About Nothing,"
Op. 164 Mario Castelnuovo Tedesco
An overture with the flimsiest musical material is made to parallel the words of Shakespeare's Don Pedro when he says—"Why these are very crotchets that he speaks, notes, notes, forsooth, and nothing."

B. Concerto No. 7 for
Orchestra Alan Hovhaness
A symphony employing the musical device of the Hindustani 'Jhala' in which porcelain water cups are played with a wooden stick.

C. Invocation and Dance,
Op. 58 Paul Creston
A composition in two contrasting sections with the second dance section exploring numerous metrical, extra metrical, multimeter and polymeter rhythms, with all of them used within our limited notation system.

W-11:15 pm

MUSICAL ENCORES

Jack Turnbull presents a program of military marches for full symphony orchestra. Two of them were created to fulfill dramatic situations in operas; two are extracted from incidental music to national dramas, and one is transcribed from a piano duet.

JOSE PONEIRA

A new Wednesday program on CBC Radio is the Jose Poneira Show, featuring the Latin American rhythms of pianist-vocalist Jose Poneira and his group.

In the New York Times, Brooks Atkinson said that Gressieker presents Henry as a "symbol of modern man, and regards his age as a parody of modern times."

"Although Henry VIII was a lecher and monster," wrote Atkinson, "Herr Gressieker has not forgotten one other thing: Henry was a real king. He governed his people. He was in the main-stream of the intellectual life of his time and he provoked intellectual arguments."

"Herr Gressieker is interested primarily in Henry's philosophical schemes for justifying his barbaric behaviour. Like a character in a comedy by Shaw, Henry always has the most fervent moral reasons for getting what he wants. Intellectually he is as innocent as a boy."

TRANS-CANADA MATINEE

Developments in Social Work. Dr. George F. Davidson, Deputy Minister of Citizenship and Immigration, recently attended the 10th International Conference of Social Work in Rome. Dr. Davidson, who was President of the ICSW, said the Conference theme, "Social Work in a Changing World—its Functions and Responsibilities," attracted interest and attention among groups concerned with health and welfare all over the world. He talks today with Sonja Sinclair, an Ottawa freelance writer and broadcaster who came to Canada from Czechoslovakia.

Auctioneering Team. Although there's nothing very unusual about a man and wife partnership in business, Pat and Jean O'Hara are the only husband-and-wife auctioneering team in Canada. They operate from their own auction mart in downtown Edmonton and Peggy MacFarlane visited them at the time of one of their three regular weekly sales. Mrs. MacFarlane is the CBC's Morning Commentator in Edmonton.

Consumer Broadcast. Jean Morrison is in her regular Thursday spot description of the atmosphere prevalent in the royal company at the time. French scholars will undoubtedly appreciate also the humorous undertones and "mots d'esprit" that crop up throughout the film.

Les Grands Spectacles

There remains little to be said on the Thursday evening spectaculars, except to thank those viewers who have taken the trouble to write or telephone their comments and appreciation throughout the season—since the present series has now come to a close. However, viewers who had made a habit of watching Channel 6 Thursday evenings at 9:30 will undoubtedly find it a habit easy enough to keep. Although replacement series still is unknown, the period will offer a good choice of musicals and/or dramatic productions of a slightly lighter nature, as was the case last summer when the Grands Spectacles series ended.

Readers please consult the next issues of the CBC TIMES for further information.

The hockey finals broadcast and telecast in French for Eastern Canada—and not telecast here because of the one-week delay in film presentation—have somewhat disrupted the regular schedule.

We are therefore forced to suppress a certain number of programs in the days to come. At press time, the programs in the 9:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. period on Sunday April 2nd and Tuesday April 4th had been cancelled; however, replacement titles remain to be known. The sports feature "Le Monde du Sport" Thursday at 7:00 is also cancelled for a short period of time.

From Huck to Donald

Young viewers who enjoy the Huckleberry Hound and Walt Disney series on the English network may want to join with their French-speaking fellowmen and enjoy both programs occasionally on the French network. ROQUET BELLES OREILLES (Wednesdays at 5:00 p.m.) is the French name of the lovable Huck, and except for a slight accent, he has pretty much the same voice and wit too! As for WALT DISNEY serials, one would hardly notice that Donald Duck of the English version is not the one and only Donald ("a" pronounced as in battle) le Canard of the WALT DISNEY PRESENTE series on the French network. The latter is telecast Saturdays at 5:00 on Channel 6 while Walt Disney Presents is seen Sundays at the same time on Channel 3.

TRANS-CANADA MATINEE

At the United Nations. Kathleen Teltsch, United Nations correspondent for the New York Times, gives her weekly report on activities at the U.N.

Arthur Phelps. One of Matinee's favourite contributors, Arthur Phelps of Kingston, returns to the program with his monthly broadcast.

Daily features . . . News commentary by Peter McLintock of Winnipeg; records selected by Pat Patterson of Toronto and played by hostess Betty Tomlinson, and Ron and Edna Hartmann read from a wide range of love letters over the centuries.

The Jackie Kennedy Look. Olive Dickason explains why Jackie Kennedy is likely to become the biggest fashion influence of any woman who has ever lived in the White House. The effect of her influence is already apparent in American ready-to-wear clothes. Silhouette is simplified, waistlines are being overlooked and never has American ready-to-wear followed Paris more closely. Mrs. Dickason points out Mrs. Kennedy doesn't wear fur, except as trim and doesn't wear a flower hat.

W-2:03 pm K-2:33 pm X-2:33 pm

Special Good Friday Programs

SEVERAL SPECIAL programs of religious drama and music are scheduled for Good Friday on CBC television and radio.

Television

CBC-TV will have six programs appropriate to Good Friday, beginning with a Halifax production, Two Worlds of Song, in the afternoon. This 30-minute program will reflect the atmosphere of Good Friday in songs from the old and new worlds.

European songs will be heard in the first part of the program—In Silent Night; Of Thee I Sing; The Prince of Sleep; Sweet Day; So Cool; and Dvorak's The Fugitive.

Songs of the new world—North American folk songs and spirituals—will be heard in the second part of the program. The music—Let Us Break Bread; She's Like the Swallow; Steal Away; The Star; and The Moon Dropped Low—will be performed in a setting of a New England church and its surrounding fields.

Performers on the program are the Cecelia Chamber Choir, a group of mixed voices under the direction of baritone Leonard Mayoh and accompanied by pianist Peter Hawkins. Syd Davidson will be the narrator.

A repeat of The Face of God, seen last Good Friday on CBC-TV, will be featured next. The program features paintings, sculpture, mosaics, drawings and manuscript illustrations of Christ by artists through the ages.

Alan Jarvis, former director of the National Art Gallery in Ottawa and head of the Society of Art Publications, gives the commentary. Actor Douglas Rain reads background scriptures and poetic excerpts. The 30-minute program was written by Ronald Hambleton and produced by David Gardner. Graphic presentations are by Leo Rampen and music by Andrew Duesbury.

Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, the Archbishop of Canterbury, recently completed a tour of the Holy Land, the Middle East and Rome. A filmed record of this tour and of the Archbishop's meetings with important church representatives will be seen on a British film, entitled Journey of Understanding.

GILLIE FENWICK

The story of the life of Christ from Birth to Crucifixion as recorded in Negro spirituals, will be told on Were You There?, a Vancouver production. Soloist Eleanor Collins and the Phyllis Inglis Singers will perform the music, making use of sections of the New Testament as transitional material, read by Howard Fair.

A meditation for Good Friday, on the theme of Christ as the Lamb of God, will be presented in a program entitled Behold, the Lamb. Percy Rodriguez, Barry Morse, Gillie Fenwick and Henry Comor will provide narration, based on the story of the Passion, from the Gospels (principally St. John), and prophetic writings from the Old Testament relating to Holy Week. Illustrating the texts will be a mosaic of famous paintings by Flemish, German and Italian masters.

A 90-minute dramatization of the events leading up to the Crucifixion will be seen next. The play, Dorothy L. Sayer's The Man Born to be King, is set against the background of Jerusalem at the time of the Passover and shows Christ's entry into the city on Palm Sunday, the Last Supper and the betrayal and arrest in the Garden of Gethsemane.

Radio

On CBC Trans-Canada radio network, Music for Good Friday will be heard in the morning, performed by violinist Albert Pratz, pianist Leo Barkin, guitarist Stan Wilson, harpist Donna Hossack and soprano Esther Ghan.

Music for choir and organ will be heard next, when the Salt Lake City Tabernacle Choir presents 15 minutes of music appropriate to Good Friday.

Seven clergymen from cities across Canada will present a meditation on the Passion of Our Lord, based on the Seven Last Words from the Cross. The program, entitled They Watched Him There, will include recorded hymns and motets.

Prairie Playhouse will present The Prince of Darkness, a special Good Friday play written by Rev. Brian Freeland, assistant supervisor of religious programs for CBC. The play deals with Judas and the events of the first Good Friday.

The Renaissance Singers, directed by Donald Mackey, will present a program of hymns and anthems appropriate to Good Friday and the last program in a daily five-part series presented during Holy Week will be the Passion narrative from the Gospel According to St. John. In these broadcasts, excerpts are read from the Gospels of St. Matthew, Mark, Luke and John as published in the New English Bible.

A special documentary about the famous United States singer and humanitarian, Marian Anderson, will be heard in the evening.

An hour-long BBC transcription will be heard featuring the performances of two sacred works—Stabat Mater and Missa Brevis—by the contemporary English composer Lennox Berkeley.

BEEF STEW AND DUMPLINGS

2 lb. boneless shin beef (cubed)
1 oxtail
Wash well and dry.
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup flour
1 tbsp. paprika
1 tbsp. salt
Pepper
 $\frac{1}{4}$  tsp. basil
 $\frac{1}{2}$  crushed bay leaf

Mix all ingredients in a paper bag. Add meat and shake well. Heat beef dripping or oil in dutch oven and add meat. When well browned add:

1 sliced onion
2 cloves garlic
 $\frac{1}{2}$  tsp. celery salt
2 tbsp. chopped parsley

Brown onions slightly then add  $2\frac{1}{2}$  to 3 cups of beef consomme. Simmer from  $2\frac{1}{2}$  to 3 hours. Then add dumplings.

DUMPLINGS

$1\frac{1}{2}$  cups flour
1 tsp. salt
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tbsp. chopped parsley
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup milk

Mix in order given and drop into hot stew. Cover tightly and cook gently for at least 20 minutes.

FROM OUR MAILBAG

Planet Ice Out of This World

• Congratulations on Planet Ice. It was refreshingly original. The grace and precision of Barbara Wagner and Robert Paul can leave no doubt that they are world champions. My faith in CBC-TV production has been renewed.—J.W.H., Saskatoon.

• Planet Ice was truly out of this world!—K.R.P., Edmonton.

* * *

Bouquets for The Times

• We find The Times invaluable for gaining the gist of programs with something worthwhile to say we have to miss, as well as reminding us of those we especially wish to listen to.

... We Red Deer people have been especially glad to have our writer-naturalist Kerry Wood covered so well; we enjoy, with all other Canadians, his CBC programs, rich in lore of this country of ours.—Mrs. L.H., Red Deer, Alta.

Appreciates Music

• Just a note of appreciation for some of the musical programs I have been enjoying recently. Music from Halifax on radio, and Reflections on TV are two that come to mind. In my opinion the music is well-chosen, and the television show is unpretentious but attractive.

The Music of Eric Wild (CBWT only) is very well done. On radio I enjoy the music and voices of Nice and Easy, but not the script.—Mrs. R.C.I., Winnipeg

"Have One on Sam"

• Just a few words to say how much all of us here enjoyed your drama, "Have One on Sam." We felt the parts were all well-done, and especially enjoyed the young girl, as we have one just like her.—Mrs. E.F., Winnipeg

• ... You certainly presented a tight, humorous, at times hilarious story, well acted, well cast and well produced. May we have more than one on Sam?—Mrs. A.P., Winnipeg

For and Against Avant-Garde Drama

• Please accept my congratulations on the two plays, "The Dumb Waiter" and "The Zoo Story." Being a high school principal, I was particularly interested in "The Zoo Story." ... I admire the skill and courage of those who laid bare the pathetic struggle of our teen-agers to achieve individuality and adult status.

... Our problems do not really disappear when we bury our heads in the sand. So please do not let the daydreamers force you to change your policy of fearlessly showing us the world as it really is. You are doing a lot to help this side of the world grow up.—R.T., Lethbridge, Alta.

• I wish to say that (the plays) were the most disgusting and drawn out that I have ever seen. If that is supposed to be Canadian culture, it is something for Canadians to be truly ashamed of. ... —Mrs. T.H.C., Picture Butte, Alta.
